

TanzPlan Ost — Call for Applications

Application for the TPO ChoreoLab 2023

The following call for applications is addressed to dancers and choreographers from eastern Switzerland (Appenzell Innerrhoden, Appenzell Ausserrhoden, Glarus, Graubünden, St.Gallen, Schaffhausen, Thurgau, Zurich) and the Principality of Lichtenstein. Both newcomers and established dance professionals can apply. Two places are reserved for young artists (dancers and choreographers who have recently graduated). TPO ChoreoLab participants with choreographic experience can then apply with a project idea for the twelve-month TPO Associated Artist Programme. Please note: Participation in the TPO ChoreoLab is a condition for applying as a TPO Associated Artist!

About TanzPlan Ost (TPO)

Founded in 2009, TanzPlan Ost toured contemporary dance productions in the region biennially from 2010 to 2020. In 2021, the transition from a biennial festival to a co-production structure took place. The new three-part concept was successfully implemented for the first time in 2021/22.

The concept consists of three parts

- a biennial TPO ChoreoLab – a workshop offering further education, exchange and networking for approx. 15–20 dancers and choreographers from eastern Switzerland
- the subsequent one-year TPO Associated Artist Programme for 2 choreographers from eastern Switzerland, each of whom will create a dance production in co-production with TanzPlan Ost
- the final TPO Tour of the two productions as a double-bill to venues in eastern Switzerland

The three elements intertwine, strengthen exchange and networking between dance professionals in eastern Switzerland, and offer the artists an opportunity to work in a qualitative manner.

TPO ChoreoLab 2023, 23–29 July 2023

Haus Gutenberg \(Balzers, Principality of Liechtenstein\)

The TPO ChoreoLab 2023 will be held in Balzers (Principality of Liechtenstein) and led by Lausanne-based choreographer Nicole Seiler. Nicole Seiler brings with her a profound and long-standing experience as a choreographer and dancer/performer. With her company, founded in Lausanne in 2002, she has developed various dance productions (also for young audiences) and diverse site-specific performance formats. Based on her own choreographic methods, practices and approaches, Nicole Seiler will lead the TPO ChoreoLab 2023 and respond to the artistic questions and topics of the participants. Participants will work in plenary sessions and in smaller groups.

On Wednesday, 26 July 2023 there will be a guided tour for audiences to visit the work spaces. On Friday, 28 July 2023 there will be a public sharing. Sketches of what has been tried out and discussed together as well as the choreographic material developed in the TPO ChoreoLab will be presented. These openings foster encounters, exchange and dialogue with the local population. Selected material from the TPO ChoreoLab will probably be presented at PAULA Festival in St.Gallen between 16–27 of August 2023 at the first edition of this festival.
